

WHO'S WHO IN CITY TO BE DECIDED AT ELECTION OF OFFICIALS ON MONDAY

ONLY ONE CONTEST, THAT TO DECIDE WHO IS TO BE TREASURER

Six Hundred Voters Register for Election. Dopesters Are up in Air as to Outcome of Race for City Treasurer.

The stage is all set; the arguments have been spoken, and the case will soon be before the jury, for on Monday the voters are to decide who will be Upland's officials. Last Saturday the sample ballots were mailed to the voters by City Clerk Fuller and cards instructing them where to vote under the consolidated precinct arrangement were included.

Owing to the fact that the city must have three councilmen and there are but three candidates running, there is no contest, and Messrs. Whitney, Francisco and Johnson will be elected. Mr. Johnson will succeed himself and Messrs. Whitney and Francisco will take the seats of Councilman J. F. Anderson and Mayor C. E. Grier.

Who will be Upland's next mayor is one feature of the organization of the board, following the election, which is creating considerable interest. Should the board follow the idea of seniority on the council, Upland's next mayor will be A. H. Johnson of the firm of Johnson and Brown, but should they not follow that plan and elect who the next mayor will be is pure guess work. City Clerk C. P. Fuller, who is running for re-election, has no opposition. Mr. Fuller has been Upland's city clerk for six years, and evidently his service to the people has been satisfactory, as there developed no opposition to his candidacy.

For many moons Upland's municipal elections have been very quiet affairs, owing to the fact of there being no contest over the official positions, but at the election Monday the main interest will revolve about the city treasurer's office.

O. E. Atwood, of the J. J. Atwood company, a young man of ability and associated in all the activities for the betterment of the city, is after the office with a determination to win, and his friends are firm in the opinion that he will be elected with a big majority.

M. F. Palmer, who has been city treasurer since the town was incorporated, is the other candidate and friends of Mr. Palmer believe he will be the favorite when the votes are counted.

The main feature of the opposition to Mr. Palmer revolves around whether or not he is a resident of the town. Mr. Palmer's ranching interests in the north have demanded the majority of his time of late, necessitating his absence from the city, and the main argument against Mr. Palmer's being elected is that he is not in the city a sufficient amount of time to give the service taxpayers should get. Another argument heard on the street is to the effect that as Mr. Palmer has held the only remunerative job in which there is a small amount of work at a good salary, and as he has held it since the town was incorporated, it's high time it was passed around. The main argument, however, is whether Upland voters consider him a non-resident.

Dopesters in the Air
One peculiar thing about the city treasurer's contest is that the wise ones are in the air when it comes to voting on the result. Enthusiasts in behalf of the respective candidates are firm in the opinion that their man will be elected, and predict a landslide, but owing to the fact that there is no discussion on the streets and little interest seems to have been aroused over the contest, dopesters are really at sea. There are 600 registered voters, who registered in time to cast their votes at the city election, and it is predicted by some that not over 500, and probably less than that number, will go to the polls next Monday.

Consolidated Precincts
For the election on Monday there are three consolidated precincts. Voters in precincts number 1, 2, and 3 are to vote at the city hall in the library building, the precinct for the election being known as consolidated precinct No. 1. The officers

HONEYCOMB PROVES A GREAT INVENTION

SOMETHING THE BEE MEN HAVE LONG BEEN WAITING FOR

Aluminum Honeycomb Can Be Used Indefinitely. Bees Seem to Take to It. Company Incorporates This Week.

This week has seen the successful incorporation here of the "McDonald Artificial Honey Comb Company, Inc.," the papers having been passed on by the Railroad Commission of the state, and permission given to operate as an officially incorporated company.

The McDonald company will manufacture in the Redlands Manufacturing company plant here a honeycomb made of aluminum, said by experienced bee men to be something that they have been wanting for many years and which will eliminate wax moth, foul brood and many other difficulties which have been an annoyance to bee men.

George McDonald, the man who originated the honeycomb, has been experimenting for some eight years in an endeavor to make a honeycomb producing the desired result. Paper was first tried but it proved unsuccessful, but aluminum solved the problem, and for many weeks the first machines necessary in the manufacture of the honeycomb have been in the making at the Redlands Manufacturing plant here.

The main feature of the problem which Mr. McDonald had to solve was to produce a honeycomb which would appeal to the bees, and one which could be cleaned and used again. The aluminum comb, after use, can be sterilized and used again, and the bees seem to like the idea, as has been demonstrated in the plant here.

The McDonald company is now receiving quantities of aluminum, and with the perfection of the new machines, and the manufacture of duplicates, the honeycombs will be turned out in large quantities.

SCHEU BURNER IS GETTING RESULTS

Indications are that Upland is to become famous as the home of the Scheu blast burner, for in experimenting with the burner this week Manager Scheu of the Upland Foundry has found that the burner will dry ornamental lamp cores in two hours, where in burning coke it took twelve hours to accomplish the same result.

A blast furnace equipped with four Scheu burners is being installed this week and interesting developments are expected.

The Scheu burner burns as fuel ordinary smudge oil and produces a heat surpassing anything on the market in its line. At the present time a heating furnace is under construction which is going to be economical in price, and indications are that the heat units it will produce will be decidedly surprising. The interior of the furnace resembles the old time drum placed in the stove pipe in the second story above the family cook stove, there being three of the drums enclosed in sheet iron from which the heat conducting pipes carry the heat to the rooms to be heated.

At the present time the majority of the force at the foundry are employed in the manufacture of 168 ornamental lamp posts, as well as the making of the iron parts for a bean planter.

BANKING NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Hereafter the banks of Upland will open at 9 a. m. and close at 3 p. m., all doors being locked before and after such hours. On Saturdays the doors will be locked at 12:30 p. m.

This action is taken in complying with a request made by the bank examiners, who object to business being transacted outside of regular banking hours; and we believe that our patrons will not make it embarrassing for us by asking admission at other hours. Thanking all for their patronage, and kindly consideration.

GRAND PATRIOTIC RALLY SATURDAY NIGHT PRESENTING THIRD LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE

Boy Scouts' Band in its Second Appearance, an Address by Mayor Grier, Sextette to Sing,
Merton E. Hill to Address the Citizens

The Third Liberty Loan is to be extended a hearty welcome on Saturday night when the people of the city will gather at the grammar school auditorium to enjoy an unusual program, and to inject into the Third Liberty loan drive a spirit of "go get it" that will once again place Upland in the front ranks among Southern California towns.

The program is replete with good things and the addresses of Mayor C. E. Grier and Merton E. Hill of Chaffey Union high school are bound to stir a patriotic fervor within you.

The Boy Scout band is to be another feature and three Boy Scouts are to be awarded medals by Mayor Grier, for their work in the second bond issue.

And here's another feature—twelve Chamber of Commerce men are going to sing—Horrors!—and the wonder of it all is: How dare they. You have heard what Sherman said about war—and what the garbage man said about swill—be sure and hear this music.

Taken all in all, the events of Saturday night are going to produce stirring times, for several interesting announcements will be made.

Shoppers are asked to do their shopping early so that business men may close their places of business at 8 o'clock and attend the big meeting.

THIRD LIBERTY LOAN CALL

On April 6th, at 8 p. m., there will be a mass meeting of the citizens of Upland at the auditorium of the Upland grammar school to listen to the appeal of the government for the Third Liberty Loan, and it is hoped that everybody that has the interest of our government at heart will be there. A program which follows will be carried out under the auspices of the Upland Chamber of Commerce and the committee feels sure that the patriotic people of Upland will do their shopping early enough on Saturday the 6th, so as to give the business men a chance to be present at the meeting.

The Boy Scouts will furnish the music. Trusting to see the auditorium crowded, the committee appeals to everybody to be present.

A. PODRASNIK, Chairman.

CONTINUOUS LINE OF FEATURES—COLONIAL

Tonight's offering at the Colonial is Julian Eltinge in "The Clever Mrs. Carfax," and as Eltinge ranks first as an impersonator of the fairer sex, the production tonight promises to be highly entertaining.

Manager Townsend of the Colonial after a month's stay here finds that what the people of Upland and surrounding territory want is first class plays, and therefore is adopting Paramount and Arctura productions.

Although you will find an entertaining play for each and every night, Tuesday and Thursday nights of each week have been selected as feature nights, and Saturday night may be adopted as a feature night in the near future.

Next Tuesday Mary Pickford is to appear here in "The Little Princess."

Mary Pickford plays the role of Sara Crewe, motherless daughter of Captain Crewe of India, at whose death the girl is reduced to a maid-of-all-work in an English boarding school where she was a pupil.

When Sara and Becky sigh as they smell the odors of Christmas cake which they know will not be shared with them, Sara remarks: "It's so long since we've eaten well—I guess we're full of hollows."

Then when Becky intimates that it isn't so hard for her but it must be worse for Sara, who used to be a regular little princess, Sara tries to explain to Becky that "we are

PROCLAMATION BY THE MAYOR

Upon April 6, 1917, by declaration of war we entered into the great conflict now being waged against Kaiserism and militarism. April 6, 1918, is the first anniversary of our entrance into this titanic struggle. Our government has set aside the first anniversary of our entrance into this war as a day in which every man, woman, and child will be given an opportunity to back up "our boys over there" by contributing to the purchase of Liberty Bonds, until it hurts. A plague is a plague. A malignant disease cannot be driven away by "hot air" and Fourth of July speeches, what the government needs and what the government is demanding of us is the "cold cash."

The local committee which has charge of the solicitation of the subscriptions to the Liberty their usual business and vocations during said week and as long thereafter as required by the committee for the success of the "LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE," and to use every energy for the success of the movement.

Let us recognize by our liberality the sacrifices being made by the fathers and mothers of these brave boys. We are sending to France daily the "flower of our manhood" and it behooves us to back up these boys in the trenches by providing the money wherewith to purchase food, clothing, and ammunition. Awake, you citizens of Upland! There is grim business ahead.

Done at the City Hall in the City of Upland on the 4th day of April, A. D. 1918.

C. E. GRIER,
Mayor of the City of Upland.

PROGRAM
Music by the Band, "America," Introductory Remarks by Mr.

Lowell Hill, Gordon Sondreicher, Avery Allen—Boy Scouts who won medals for the sale of bonds to at least ten different families in the Second Liberty Loan Drive. Mayor Grier will present the medals Saturday night.

Bond, has set aside the week beginning April 6, 1918, for this great drive, and we, as patriotic citizens of Upland, must co-operate with them.

Therefore, I, C. E. Grier, Mayor of the City of Upland, by virtue of the authority in me vested, do hereby announce and proclaim that the week beginning April 6, 1918, will be set aside and observed by the citizens of Upland as "LIBERTY LOAN WEEK," and respectfully urge and request all citizens to lay aside, as much as possible, both princesses—inside." This is not particularly comforting to the urchin, who declares that "the thought ain't very filling, miss."

The feature for Thursday night, April 11, is Wm. S. Hart in "The Silent Man."

Hart's appearances as a westerner have been many and varied since he deserted the speaking stage for motion pictures, and he has attained a niche in the Hall of Fame that is peculiarly his own. The actor's following is tremendous in all sections of the country, and his admirers flock to any theatre showing a new "Bill" Hart photodrama.

In "The Silent Man" Hart will have the role of a miner who has made a rich "strike" on the desert and has come into a small border town to record his claim. His rich ore attracts the attention of the proprietor of a gambling resort, who immediately seeks to rob the miner. This is accomplished through the connivance of a government clerk in the land office. Then follows a spirited, vigorous and uncommonly sensational fight on the part of the miner to recover possession of his claim, during which he is called upon to take the law pretty much into his own hands.

NAME MITCHELL COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN

Archie D. Mitchell, city attorney of Ontario, was Saturday elected as chairman of the San Bernardino County Democratic central committee. District Attorney Duckworth, who was chairman, asked to be relieved because he is running for office.

DIST. ATTORNEY AND GRAND JURY CLASH

DISTRICT ATTORNEY REFUSES TO ACCEDE TO GRAND JURY

Hot Words Passed at Meeting of Supervisors on Monday.
Wrangle Over Employing Special Investigator.

A clash between District Attorney T. W. Duckworth and a committee of the grand jury was staged in the board of supervisors chambers Monday over the demand of the grand jury for the appropriation of funds for a legal adviser independent of the district attorney's staff, and the incident immediately became the courthouse sensation of weeks. The grand jury wants investigation to determine if suits should be brought against hospital contractors and the architect.

N. L. Levering was spokesman for the delegation from the grand jury, and the district attorney interpreted his remarks as an intimation that the county prosecutor would not do his full duty if it should involve men who appointed him to office.

"You stop, suh!" declared Mr. Duckworth, and the fighting blood of his Southern ancestors was plainly aroused.

"I do not want to cast any reflections on you," Mr. Levering had said to the district attorney. "I feel you are a human being. If you had been elected by the people it would be different. You were appointed by the board of supervisors, and it would be no more than natural—just could not but feel more or less toward the men who appointed you. You have passed, as the board's adviser, on contracts which the grand

NOTE OF INTEREST AT CHAFFEY UNION

Chaffeyites from high school enjoyed a short Easter vacation this past week, having two days, Friday and Monday, free. Though short, that did not prevent the vacation being the jolliest ever. Half the school journeyed, or rather hiked, to the mountains, groups staying in Camp Baldy, at the Presbyterian and Congregational cabins and in private camps. Many visited Los Angeles, Pasadena and the beaches, and Easter morning saw Chaffeyites at Mt. Rubidoux.

Here in the town there were jolly picnics and parties and it is reported that some brave(?) senior girls spent one night in the "Haunted House."

Thus it is quite evident that Chaffeyites can have a good time when ever they are "turned loose!"

Mr. W. W. Mather has been appointed the Chaffey "war work historian" by Principal Hill, a new office at the school. Mr. Mather's duties are to make yearly reports of all the war work done by Chaffey in any way. This is a very interesting department and we think, when the first year's report is presented, it will prove Chaffey a very loyal and patriotic institution in the way of work and aid done to help the government in the great war needs.

The farm projectors at Chaffey are building a brooder on the back part of the campus and have already made the cement foundation. The building is to be of wood and the class is working hard to get it completed soon. The different undertakings of the class in farming are carefully investigated by Mr. Booth each week and great results are expected. The county superintendent, Mrs. Stanley, talked to the students Tuesday on farming and commended the work done at Chaffey. Mr. Booth has been asked to take over the farming projections of the county of San Bernardino, but it is not yet fully decided whether he will accept the position or not.

The total amount in Thrift Stamps bought by the Chaffey students for the month of March is $1037.50, which is another sign of the loyalty of the Chaffey students toward their government.

Tuesday evening there was a meeting held in the Upland grammar school for the Spaniards, to instruct them in the way of thrift and war saving. Mr. Ed Harwood had charge of the meeting and Miss Jones, the Spanish teacher from Chaffey, gave a talk to the Spaniards, followed by a duet by two Chaffey boys who sang company enables him to give his program with variety and finish that cannot be reached by the average magician. His stage settings, too, are lavish and beautiful.

UPLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LABORS IN BEHALF OF CITY FOR BIG RESULTS

MEMBERSHIP CARDS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED AND A NEW DRIVE IS ON

Liberty Loan Drive Occupies
Most of Directors' Time at the Last Meeting. Royal Miller
Head of Farm Questions.

Plans for the Third Liberty Loan Drive, which opens Saturday of this week, occupied the forefront in the meeting of the directors of the Upland Chamber of Commerce, held on Tuesday evening in the director's room of the O. K. Exchange. The men found time, however, to take action upon a number of other interesting and vital community affairs.

Mr. Royal Miller, the newly elected chairman of the committee on Ranch Problems, took his place with the other directors, and is proving a strength to the organization. Every member of the directorate has accepted his office because he seeks to serve the community, and stands ready to be of any possible service. To Mr. Miller, however, has been committed the special duty of investigating ranch problems, and recommending means for their solution. He will welcome suggestion and constructive criticism at any time.

Membership Campaign on Again
The new membership cards have arrived, and the membership campaign that was held up pending their arrival, is on again and in full swing. The directors are justifying the existence of the chamber in every way and every citizen who cares to promote the interests of our town will not rest until he possesses one of the cards with his big red 1918. Resolutions were passed thanking the directors of the O. K. Fruit Exchange and the Commercial National bank for the use of their rooms for civic meetings. New chairs are to be added to the present equipment of the O. K. Exchange and the citizens of Upland are to be invited to attend the meetings of the chamber of commerce and know the progress that is being made. Meetings are to be held the first Tuesday of each month.

Mr. Miller, the representative of the War Activities Committee for the sale of Smilge Books, reported that the minimum quota for Upland had been sold, but that the committee was going on with the sale. These coupon books are on sale at a dollar at the banks, Atwood's, Mehls, and the Upland Pharmacy, and admit the soldier boys in the various camps throughout the United States to concerts, movies, plays, and other entertainment.

They Like Smilge
In this connection these words from Robert W. Sturges, known here as a Pomona college athletic leader, are of interest: "Smilge Books are more valuable presents for soldiers than either candy or cigarettes, in my estimation. They will bring greater returns to the soldier in the way of refreshment and reviving of spirits."

Chairman Howe reported that the plans looking toward the establishment of a school of aviation near Upland were progressing well, and that the official documents needed in the case would soon be on the way to Washington. President Barr, Secretary Whitney and W. E. Westland have been cooperating in this work.

Upland Red Cross Support

A minimum three hundred dollars a month has been assured the local Red Cross chapter by the co-operation of citizens, as suggested by the Chamber of Commerce War Activities Committee, in a monthly guarantee fund. This splendid showing makes it possible for the ladies of our community to be supplied with materials for work without interference with the national campaigns for Red Cross and other work.

The War Activities Committee reported that under direction of Mr. Alois Podrasnik, the coming Liberty Loan Drive was heading up splendidly. Mr. Podrasnik is determined that the honor flag for Upland shall float high and speedily. The entire directorate entered wholeheartedly into the plans for the mass meeting at the grammar school Saturday night. Music in bucketful is promised by Chairman Webster of the entertainment committee and with Mayor C. E. Grier and Merton E. Hill, principal of Chaffey Union as principal speakers, and the Upland

Salute to the Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the American Flag;
And the Republic for which it stands;
One Nation, indivisible,
With Liberty and Justice for all."

PRESIDENT WILSON is about to sign a bill which takes its place in history as the most liberal legislation in protection of a nation's fighters ever known. It is good enough, strong enough to be called the National Ten Commandments, and is, in effect, thus:

Thou shalt not evict, for non-payment of rent, a soldier's dependents, under penalty of $10,000 fine.

Thou shalt not cut off a soldier's life insurance because of delayed premiums.

Thou shalt not foreclose a mortgage on a soldier's property.

Thou shalt not take away a soldier's home on which he has made part payment.

Thou shalt not sell a soldier's property because of his failure to pay the taxes, national, state or local.

Thou shalt not settle a law suit against a soldier during his absence.

If a soldier sue, the courts shall postpone action until he can attend to it.

If a soldier have a mine, or timber or farm claim, assessments on which are overdue, it shall be held for him.

Honor thy soldier and thy sailor, that thy days may be long in the land of liberty.

No man hath greater love than he that offereth his life for the world's sake, and it is commanded that neither lawyers, nor the loan sharks, nor the gatherers of tithes shall fatten on him.

EVERY village they have passed through has been the victim of what is only organized pillage. Every city has been practically sacked, ransacked on system; its citizens plundered, its civil officials terrorized, imprisoned, outraged, or killed. The civil populations have been, contrary to the usage of modern warfare, forced to serve the invading armies, brutally put to death, reduced to wholesale starvation, and desolation. Vast tracts of the richest and most industrious districts of Europe have been deliberately stripped and plunged into famine, solely in order that the invaders might make war cheaply. Irregular troops, contrary to all the practices of war, have been systematically murdered, and civil populations indiscriminately massacred, solely to spread terror. A regular system of ingenious terrorism has been directed against civilians, as horrible as anything in the history of civil or religious wars. Large and populous cities have been, not once, but twenty, thirty, forty times bombarded and burnt, and the women and children in them wantonly slaughtered, with the sole object of inflicting suffering. All this has been done not in license, or passion, but by the calculating ferocity of scientific soldiers.

The above was not written, though it might have been, yesterday, last week, last month, or last year. It appeared in the English Fortnightly Review, February, 1871, shortly before the surrender of Paris. Frederick Harrison, the writer, is still alive. Its statements were true then, are true now. Julius Caesar, in his Commentaries, narrates events which show that even before the time of Christ the Germans demonstrated the possession of all the rudiments of their modern "kultur." It is no new thing; and hundreds of thousands of men will have died in vain in this war if this sinister thing is not absolutely and utterly exterminated forever by the forces of civilization and arrayed against it.

THE United States school garden army is now beginning to mobilize. The whole plan has been carefully worked out and so far there hasn't been a single hitch in the program. The secretary of the interior through the bureau of education is calling upon state and county superintendents of schools and also upon the governors of the different states, the mayors of the different cities, and school superintendents in cities, towns, villages and suburban communities, and asking every one of these people to fall in line and get to work in the greatest practical volunteer campaign that has been started since the war began.

The Germans have organized their garden army years ago, and just because they did do that very thing they have been able to laugh at the rest of the world for so long. For back of every bullet and behind every shell and under and over every cloud of poisonous gas and running every submarine and directing every aeroplane is a man who must keep up his energies with food.

We might as well send our men to the trenches to face cannons and airships and poison gas and explosives dressed in a suit of pajamas and with nothing but their bare hands for weapons, as to send our armies overseas without enough provisions to keep them not only alive but in fighting trim when they get there.

Where are we going to get the food to send them? We have just one storehouse from which to draw, and that storehouse is in the fertile fields and the rich harvests of our own country. Our troops abroad need flour and sugar and coffee and tea and corn and meat—we must send them these things or be ready to bow our heads under the German heel.

There is no use blinking the fact a minute longer; the whole thing comes right down to the question of bread and meat, and enough of it. If we send all that we raise abroad what shall we do at home? This is the time to begin to consider these things. We have been blind and dull of wit, and deaf and indifferent long enough. From one end of this country to the other the people are beginning to realize what this question of food means. No wonder that the United States school garden army has taken such a splendid hold, not only in the imagination but of the stern, practical faculties of this whole country.—Pomona Bulletin.

IT is commendable the way the Liberty Loan committee is going about the San Bernardino campaign to raise the $662,000 quota here. They expect to finish this patriotic and very necessary job in one day. And they do not propose to have any fooling. And it is time fooling was cut out, too. Men of means are generally known. The committee has them all located. They know who are able to buy bonds. And they propose to see to it that these people do so. And it is right they should. The war is the business of everybody now. No one has any business claiming American citizenship now unless he helps carry on the war until he feels it.

The government is making it as easy as possible for everybody to help with the minimum of discomfort. So far this has been possible. It is possible in the coming Liberty Loan drive. But it may be before the war is over that the word "minimum" in this connection cannot be used. America is going to win this war if it takes every male citizen from the ages of eighteen to fifty—if it takes every male citizen from the ages of eighteen to fifty—if it deducts a bare living. We might just as well understand this now as any other time. The sooner we do understand it the better, for this means that drastic straits may not have to be resorted to. Now is the time to make the drive in money and man-power and means that will save the day before such an awful storm breaks that money and man-power and other means may be of less avail—the time when the nation is strained to the very depths.

San Bernardino is one of the most loyal places in the United States. Our people, to a man and woman and child, are doing all they can to push forward war work of every description. The Liberty Loan is simply handing over some dollars to Uncle Sam which he proposes to pay back with interest. No man who is able should flunk a moment on such a proposition.

If you have idle money, put it into Liberty Bonds. If you are earning a salary over and above the requirements of a livelihood for yourself and family, arrange to buy Liberty Bonds on the installment plan.

This is the best advice the Index can offer, and you will find it the best possible for you to follow.—San Bernardino Index.

NOTHING can be more fatal than a wrong assumption. For months we have been assuming that the German people were out of sympathy with their leaders; that the morale of the German army had been weakened; that there was a shortage of food; that the masses were eager for peace, and that the war would soon be over.

In a mental attitude like that we cannot possibly do our best. To take it for granted that victory is certain inevitably relaxes effort. We must revise our judgments. We must make a saner assumption. One theory alone is safe, and that is that we are dealing with a far more terrible and resourceful foe than we have realized, and that it is madness not to prepare for a long and exhausting war.

Let us begin by taking it for granted that as a result of their Russian conquests our enemies are assured of food supplies for at least another year. Good-by, then, to the hope that we can starve them out.

Let us take it for granted, also, that whether there is or is not a divided sentiment among the German people about the wisdom of the war the military power is resistless enough to repress rebellion and prevent disintegration.

Let us take it for granted, again, that the junkers have never for a moment relaxed their purpose to hold on every foot of territory they have captured, and to capture as much more as they can. We are dealing, it is necessary to believe, with a natural force (the greed of the human soul for wealth and power) as remorseless as frost or fire.

We have been building castles in the air too long. Our mental attitude as a nation has been that of happy-hearted children, unfamiliar with the stern realities of life. When our forefathers picked their way through the primitive wilderness, they took the ferocity of the Indians for granted. Every step and every act was based upon the assumption that they would get an arrow through their hearts or a tomahawk in their brains if they relaxed their vigilance for an instant.

Terrible as it seems, we must go upon a similar assumption. We, also, are dealing with savagery. We are up against falsehood, treachery, ferocity, brutality. It is live or die, sink or swim, survive or perish with us, if it has ever been with any nation on the earth.

Grim business it is, and it goes against our grain. But men in the grip of the burglar, or looking down the barrel of a high-wayman's gun, or into the eyes of a tiger, had better assume the reality of their peril.—Hemet News.

TREATMENT OF SEED POTATOES

D. C. George, Plant Pathologist, Arizona Horticultural Commission, in California Cultivator: Potatoes are subject to a number of diseases the most important of which in Arizona are rhizoctonia and scab. Of these two the former is by far the more serious. In connection with the treatment and control measures recommended the appearance of the disease upon the tubers and some other general characteristics are briefly considered.

Rhizoctonia—This disease appears upon the tubers as small, warty, dark-brown elevations, resembling dirt particles that will not rub off. These structures are known as the sclerotia and are much more conspicuous when the tuber is wet. Frequently the disease causes a slight corrosion or roughening of the skin to which the term "russet scab" has been applied. This stage is usually associated with a deep, wide crack or split very much roughened and reveals beneath it a deep pocket or pit resembling the work of some insect. The object of seed treatment is to kill all the sclerotia or any other part of the fungus that might be present upon the seed tubers.

Scab—Potato scab appears upon the tubers in crust spots, deeply cracked and furrowed. In serious cases these spots may join together, causing a general roughened appearance over the surface of the tuber. Scab develops no sclerotia or other structure upon the surface of the tuber and causes no pits or pockets as in the case of the rhizoctonia.

Similarities and Differences—The rhizoctonia disease is caused by a soil fungus common in many soils and supposed to be a native in some. Scab is caused by a soil bacterium common in nearly all soils and especially prevalent in soils with a high humus content. Rhizoctonia is especially favored by an acid soil and scab by an alkaline soil. Rhizoctonia is lessened by the use of barnyard manure while scab is increased by its use, especially if the manure is fresh. It has recently been determined that the organism causing scab is very prevalent in humus material in the process of decomposition. Both diseases best develop under high moisture conditions and when once established in the soil will remain there for indefinite periods. Both attack such crops as beets, turnips, mangels, rutabagas, etc., but have never been found causing injury to such crops as wheat, oats, or barley. Rhizoctonia and scab are both subject to the same seed treatment. Formaldehyde is effective against scab but is very unsatisfactory against rhizoctonia, while the corrosive sublimate solution is effective against both diseases.

Control—In the control of these diseases the following system should be followed:

Use clean seed. Rotate crops. Select soil known to be uninfected. Treat the seed.

The treatment recommended for both the rhizoctonia disease and scab is as follows:

Corrosive sublimate, four ounces; water, 30 gallons. This strength makes a one to 1000 solution. The seed potatoes should be covered by the solution from 1½ to two hours. The following should be strictly observed:

Treat all seed in wooden vessels, such as candy pails or barrels, as the solution will corrode metal.

Corrosive sublimate is a deadly internal poison but is non-injurious to the skin and may be handled without danger.

Use a new solution to every five bushels of seed.

Never feed treated potatoes to livestock.

Treat all tubers before cutting.

SCHOOL CHILDREN PAINT POSTERS

When the advertising department of the Indiana office of the United States sent out a hurry call to 500 Indiana art teachers not long ago, school children throughout the state of Indiana began to paint posters and coin slogans. Some slogans that would do credit to a trained copy-writer have been the result.

Among them are these:

"Be canny with food."
"Peel thin and win."
"Not that we love food less, but that we love Liberty more."
"Spread butter thin—help the Sammies get Berlin."
"Be a Conservation Bee."
"Bread and Buns Will Beat the Huns."
"Fill all cans but Garbage Cans."
"Can until you can't."
"Every spud is a bullet."
"Save bacon until Berlin is taken."
"Save navy beans. 'Twill sink the submarines."
"Wise wives won't waste."
"Kill kaiserism in the kitchen."
"Every Hoosier help Hoover."
"Join the diet squad."
"Eat fish—a good war dish."
"The nation beats that saves the eats."
"Pickle and can for Uncle Sam."
"Save pieces for peace."
"Throw away your frying pan. Bake, broil and boil all you can."
"Save! The kitchen is your fort!"

Woman's Club

One of the most entertaining meetings of the season was that of last Thursday afternoon when the Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. W. C. Powellson, on Ramona avenue, who was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. Chas.
Beckley. The program consisted of current events, and all those who were not prepared to state "an event," were made to pay a five cent fine, the proceeds to go toward the purchase of the new town service flag. After a pretty piano duet by Mrs. Beckley and Mrs. Geo. H.
Allen, Miss Madge Horst then took the floor and in her usual vivacious manner, gave a very interesting talk on physical culture, a subject on which she is well posted, the club ladies were put through a system of exercises, after which the company adjourned to the yard, where a mock ball game was in progress, which finished the program for the afternoon. Hot coffee and dainty sandwiches were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Horst, Miss Madge
Horst assisting.

Red Cross Benefit Supper

Don't forget the Red Cross cafeteria supper from 5:30 to 7 at the Central school building, Monday evening, April 5th, followed by the unique entertainment at 7:30. Supper prices a la cafeteria style, admission to the entertainment 25c adults, 10c children. The supper menu sounds surely yum yum, those dandy Spanish beans every one likes, brown breads, salads which melt in the mouth, delicious spaghetti, and hot coffee for all—and pie! Arrangements are being made to seat 250 people. It is expected every one will come and give their bit toward this noble cause—every cent of which will go to our own local chapter. The entertainment will be one of the most interesting entertainments ever scheduled in Cucamonga, so be on hand! Friday evening,
April 5th, Central school.

Pretty Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. English entertained at dinner Wednesday evening at their home on Reid avenue, in honor of their mother, Mrs. W. L.
Dana, whose birthday it was. The table was dainty with spring flowers and besides the honoree, covers were laid for Messrs. W. L.
Dana, John Farquhar, Philip Wan-gler, Eddis Farquhar, Misses Mary Sheehan, Margaret Barry, Mary Mc-Cord and Irma Hanson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Peterson of West Eighth street are just in receipt of a letter from the old home in Denmark, which letter was some two months on the way to destination. The home folks were all well to that date and appear to be in no immediate danger of serious food shortage, living on a farm as they do, but state that there are over fifty thousand idle people in the cities, and the amount daily increasing, who are dependent upon the government for food, and it is fast becoming a very serious problem.
Such is war, and we all agree with General Sherman.

Farewell Surprise Party

Last Friday evening Everett Graves, the young navy lad who has been visiting his relatives here for some time, was agreeably surprised by a party of his friends and new acquaintances who met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Croswell, and a very enjoyable evening was spent in games and music. At the close of the evening, cake and punch were served. The party was in the nature of a farewell to Mr. Graves, who left here Sunday night for Los Angeles, and from there on Tuesday morning for Mare Island, San Francisco. Those enjoying the affair were Mrs. and Mrs. A. J. Far-quhar, Mrs. and Mrs. I. T. Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Croswell, Messrs. Lee Jamison, Arthur Skinner, O. Welch, E. L. Steward, Geo.

Record Prices Received

The Cucamonga Citrus Growers association has just received returns on the first car of navel oranges which were shipped to the New York market and all are wearing a broad smile, for although the crop was exceedingly short, such record prices will go far toward making up the shortage in volume.
The returns on above car show a price of $9.95 for the choice grade, and what is also especially gratifying, there was absolutely no deduc-tion for decay out of the entire car, at a time when most other cars were arriving with more or less decay. The navel shipments and what sweets and bloods to go from this district are fast cleaning up, and turned out far better than was expected. The Valencia season will open up in due time, and promises to be a very fair crop indeed, with prospect of good prices and it is hoped in many cases, record prices.

Bold Night Raider

Tuesday evening of last week,
three different places on South Side were entered by some petty thief, whom it is thought gained entrance
by the aid of a pass or a skeleton key, and made away with all the small change he could lay his hands on, and three pairs of overalls from the North Cucamonga store. The haul the robber made though was but small, robbing the till at the pool hall of 35c, the Santa Fe depot (where he crawled over the transom) of pennies from the gum and candy machine and small change from cash drawer, amounting to about $3, and at the North Cucamonga postoffice $1.50 in stamps and change and the overalls. A strange man was seen hanging around the pool hall all that day and it is thought he must be the guilty party.

Mrs. Titus Hostess—

Mrs. J. H. Titus was hostess to the members of the Upland Bridge club yesterday afternoon at her home on El Morado court in Ontario. The time passed away very swiftly in playing bridge and delicious refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon to the following members and invited guests: Mrs. J. M. Webster, Mrs. H. S. Wilson, Mrs. R. N. Leahy, Mrs. James H. Black, Mrs. Torrens Pratt, Miss Hazel St. Amand, Mrs. Earl Maurer, Mrs. Dalton Field, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. C. P. Fuller, Mrs. Royal Bumstead, Mrs. A. J. Hall, and Mrs. H. O. Blohm.

Mrs. Sheppard Hostess—

A most interesting afternoon was spent last Friday by the members and friends of the Edith Cavell chapter, at the home of Mrs. Sheppard, Ontario, when they had the pleasure of listening to Mrs. James Dawson, who gave a most stirring and inspiring address followed by a poem which thrilled every one. The chapter was also a recipient of gifts from Mrs. Dawson which will be forwarded overseas individually, and give great pleasure and benefit to the men in the trenches. Mrs. Dawson made five hundred envelopes of oil of paper, each containing a box of insect powder, two cottle traps, and an American flag, and one hundred and fifty French candles, manufactured from wall paper, which, Mrs. Dawson has proved, burns three times as long as ordinary paper. The Edith Cavell chapter acknowledges with deepest gratitude and many thanks these useful and necessary gifts for their men.

Luncheon for Canadian Friends—

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Tracy are entertaining at luncheon today Canadian friends, who are at present staying in Los Angeles, motoring out from the city this morning. The party comprises the Rev. Canon Howitt, of Hamilton, Ontario, and Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Noble, former residents of the same city.

Miss Stone Hostess—

Miss Janet Stone was dinner hostess to a number of girl friends last Monday evening at her home on Euclid avenue. Being April Fool's day, the form of entertainment was easily settled, and a great many tricks and jokes were played on each other. About nine o'clock the girls were driven to the Haunted House on San Antonio Heights, where they spent the night, sleeping so late the next morning that there was no time to breakfast before starting down the hill to Chaffey. Miss Stone's guests were Miss Cecile Cushing, Miss Eleanor Lynch, Miss Joy Wilcox, Miss Marjorie Lane, Miss Pearl Arnett, Miss Ruby Arnett.

Party at Camp Baldy—

A merry crowd of boys and girls of the Mennonite Sunday school walked up to Camp Baldy early last Friday morning and spent several days hiking in the mountains, returning Saturday evening. The young people climbed beyond the snow in Ice House canyon on Saturday morning and reported that the mountains were beautiful at that time.

Miss Metta Niswander and Miss Elsa Haury acted as chaperones. Others of the party included the Misses Pearl Ledig, Ruth Voth, Emma Niswander, Lillian Widmer, Bertha Schmidt and Marian Shelley; and Messrs. Frederick Kintzi, Oscar Horsch, Emil Horsch, Nemo Schmutz, Phillip Schmutz, Albert Schmidt, Gustav Hirschler and Earl Ledig.

Shamrock Club—

The Shamrock club members met at the home of Mrs. Billington on Laurel, Wednesday afternoon. Decorations of beautiful white flowers and greenery lent their charm to busy workers. The time was devoted to Red Cross work. A lovely donation of four beautiful infant's white bonnets with blue and pink rosettes and a pinning blanket were received from Mrs. Lockwood. The work on these articles was lovely, and the ladies wish to extend their appreciation for this addition to their layettes. Mrs. Billington was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Korel, of Long Beach, in serving doughnuts and coffee. Those present were Mrs. Korel, Grandma Jordan, Mrs. Chilson, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Eckerman, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Ertson, Mrs. Fischer and Mrs. Weiland.

Patriotic Thrift Meeting—

A very enthusiastic meeting was held at the I. O. O. F. hall on Friday evening last when a drive for Thrift and War Savings Stamps was inaugurated and most successfully carried through, nearly a thousand dollars worth of stamps having been sold during the evening. The drive was under the auspices of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, who were assisted by Silver Link Rebekah Lodge. An evening of music and speeches were enjoyed. The sale of the Thrift and War Savings Stamps was in charge of H. O. Blohm, postmaster, who was assisted by Miss Flora Morley, Mrs. Bess Grisham, Mrs. Hattie Martin and Glenn Williams. The sincere thanks of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are extended to all who helped to make the evening the success it was. The program follows:

1. Odd Fellows' Ode and National Anthem.
2. Address, T. W. Duckworth, Past Grand Master of California.
3. Song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," J. Lynward Grahame.
4. Address, C. E. Hodge.
5. Reading, Miss Marjorie Dean Reynolds.
6. Vocal Solo, Miss Verna Jacques.
7. Address, Jas. Russell, County Manager Sale of Thrift and War Savings Stamps.

W. C. T. U. Reception—

The reception and dinner given by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. to their husband and friends on Monday evening proved to be a most enjoyable affair, covers being laid for more than fifty guests. A delightful program was given during the course of the evening consisting of appropriate music, spicy toasts, humorous impromptu debates, etc. The guest list included Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mehl, Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Shelley, Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Haury, Rev. and Mrs. Charles Kent, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Rice, Mrs. George Ames, Mrs. and Mrs. James Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Love, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Getty, Mrs. Alice Duley, Mrs. Lansing T. Vedder, Mrs. W. C. Birthday Surprise—

Mrs. Anna Eymann was very happily surprised at her home on Washington boulevard on the occasion of her sixty-fifth birthday Wednesday afternoon by a number of friends and relatives. The rooms were tastefully decorated with bridal wreath and violets which were most effective in the whole lavender color scheme. Knitting and kindred subjects were the agreeable pastime of the afternoon, at the close of which the guests were served with delicious cake and ice cream. Those participating in the surprise were Mesdames F. C. Thomas, Daniel Ruth, Paul Schowalter, C. C. Eymann, W. R. Goetz, L. L. Harms and H. A. Ledig, and the Misses Irma Thomas, Elizabeth Ruth, Meta Ruth and Gertrude Eymann.

An Evening of Music—

A very enjoyable and delightful musicale was given by several of the more advanced pupils of Miss Bertha Palmer last Thursday evening at the home of Miss Helena Wiechmann on Tenth street, to which intimate friends and relatives of the performers had been invited. The young pianists all showed much promise, revealing the excellent training their teacher has given them. Mr. Ogden's performance was especially praiseworthy. He displayed splendid talent and gave matured interpretations especially in the Chopin number. The pianists were very ably assisted by Miss Helena, Wiechmann, soprano.

It will no doubt be of interest to friends of Miss Agnes Stewart and of Miss Wiechmann to know that these young ladies have recently passed their first examinations in the Sherwood course and have received their first medals from the Sherwood school.

The program given last Thursday evening is as follows:
Overture—Raymond. Thomas, Hazel Ogden, Miss Palmer.
Tarantella. Burgmuller. Agnes Stewart.

To the Voters of Upland:

At the Citizens' Mass Meeting on February 12th my name was presented as a candidate for City Treasurer and I was given the unanimous endorsement of that body. Due to the fact that the present City Treasurer had been compelled to be away from Upland a large part of the time and also that he had held the office for many years, many of those closely associated with the business interests of the town thought that it would be advisable that another candidate present his name to the voters.

While I have not been able to see every voter personally on account of my work at the store, this is simply an indication that I am always on the job and can be found easily when wanted.

In the affairs of the city I have endeavored to do my part and the fact that I am now serving my second year on the Board of Directors of the Upland Chamber of Commerce is evidence of that fact.

If elected to the office of City Treasurer I will endeavor to give to the city the best service possible and to give my personal attention to all matters pertaining to the office.

Yours truly,

Due to the high cost of manufacturing and delivering ice at this time The Union Ice Company finds it necessary to make a very small raise in price. The price to the family trade which is close in will remain the same, 60c per hundred pounds. The far out deliveries including the Avenue above 12th Street will be 75c per hundred when taken in smaller than 100 pound deliveries. Upland will have an every other day delivery including Sundays during the extreme summer weather.

Only raising the price as we have it will be necessary for us to sell on a strictly cash basis to every one other than year around customers. This is not casting reflections on any one's credit. It is simply because it costs a considerable amount to handle the books and with the labor condition as it is we avoid the errors which are constantly made in charging accounts by inexperienced help.

We will have more equipment on in this territory than we did last year and will give as good a service as possible. However, every one must remember when they have a little trouble that we are faced, the same as all employers are, with a serious labor condition.

Any one desiring tickets can purchase them from the drivers in any amount.

Friends of Mr. Donner claim that owing to the change in time it takes longer for your think tank to get under way, but Mr. Donner claims that the lantern had nothing to do with the fire, as it evidently caught in starting the machine.

LETTER FROM GLEN KELLY

Mrs. H. W. Flowers has received the following letter from her son written from San Diego:

King George Hotel, San Diego, March 27, 1918.

Dear Mother:—It has been a long time since I wrote to you but we have been close to Central America and just got back today for a short stay.

Well, I suppose that you have read about a German raider being captured by a certain war ship. Well, the ship was the ship. We sure had an exciting trip of it. We had a 2200 mile trip. We were at the end of Southern California when we got a message to go to bay and watch for a raider and drag the harbor for mines. Well, we speeded across water and got there the next night and watched for the raider.

We drug the harbor the next day but found no mines, so we waited for a prize but it did not come out so we steamed up the coast about five miles and anchored. About 10:30 the raider made a break and we speeded toward it; it ran dead ahead of us, so we swung around and gave it a shot across its bow and stopped it. We searched it and found a German in its double bottom and also a German flag. We also got six other men and two women.

We expect to go back soon and try for more raiders.

We feel proud that we captured the first raider that an American war ship has captured.

You see where I am stopping. I thought that I would get a good bed once.

I am getting so that I like the navy better every day.

Send this letter to the folks and it will do for them and I will write to them soon. With love,

GLEN KELLY.

Happenings Here and There Gathered by a News Special Representative in and About the Famous Etiwanda Colony

Mrs. A. A. Werner had a birthday Wednesday and some of her friends who had surprised her upon previous occasions of this sort tried to do it again, but failed utterly, as she was all ready to welcome them at the door at 6 o'clock and had a big pan of popcorn balls set away in the cool room. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donnelly and son Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Donnelly, E. G. Rader, Mrs. Eva Fisher and daughter and Mrs. A. C. Smith and children were the self-invited guests. The meal, served buffet style, included meat loaf, salad, victory bread, corn pone, radishes, Damsun sun preserves, peaches and a hickory nut cake, the work of Mrs. Thomas Donnelly. This crowd goes on an enforced vacation at this time, there being no more birthdays until August, when Mr. A. C. Smith and Mrs. Charles Donnelly celebrate a day apart.

Miss Ethel Bilyeu entertained on Thursday evening very informally. Mrs. H. A. Stineberg brought her new Victrola and a number of the young people spent the evening in dancing. Present were Mrs. Stineberg, Mrs. D. W. Layne, Louella, Cyrus and Katherine McClean, Catherine and Florence Brownless, Mae and Perry Orendorff, Gerald Cour, Billy Hippard, Howard Frost, Hazel Cour, Bessie Troyer and Isabel Smith.

A large number attended the church services Easter Sunday, both morning and evening, brought out by an interest in the special music that had been planned for the day. The church was decorated with lilies. In the morning a unified service was held, beginning at ten thirty. After a short study of the Sunday school lesson an interesting program was given. The primary department of the Sunday school, which is in charge of Mrs. Charles Donnelly and Miss Hazel Cour, sang two songs. Mrs. Fred Koch's class and the girls from Mrs. Ernest Mueller's class furnished one number, and the young people sang twice. The morning's collection being for the Congregational Education society, three leaflets concerning what that society is accomplishing were read: "Pluck," by Isabel Smith; "Perseverance," by Catherine Brownless, and "The Cow Girl" by Dorothy Neece. Rev. Clyde W. Greenlee gave a very brief talk. The children brought their Easter offering of Pennies in egg shell banks and when the money was counted there were fourteen and a half dollars. One shell that was well filled contained over fifty pennies.

Mrs. Clyde W. Greenlee led the evening meeting. The young people gave four numbers of the special music that had been prepared.

Friday night of this week the Christian Endeavorers will hold an April Fool social in the church basement. Every one in the community is invited to come and participate, whether a member of the Endeavor or not. A delegation from Rev. Greenlee's church at Rincon is expected over to enjoy the evening.

The Tea Circle of the Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Thomas Donnelly on last Thursday afternoon. It was an extremely quiet party, considering the number of women present, as every one cannot knit and talk too. Needles were busy till tea was served. Mrs. Richard Merrill assisted. Home-made cookies went with the tea and every one decided that Mrs. Donnelly is a very good cookie baker. After refreshments Miss Amy Orchard assembled the guests on the lawn and took a snap shot picture of the group. Those who attended were: Mrs. George E. Utman, Mrs. M. A. Orchard and daughter Amy, Mrs. A. A. Sexton and her guest Mrs. Ashbrook, Mrs. J. D. Orendorff, Mrs. A. A. Werner and daughter, Mrs. W. E. E. Layton and Annie May Layton, Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. C. C. Brownless, Helen Brownless, Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. Andrew Ingvaldsen, Mrs. Fred Koch, Mrs. Lillian Cour, Mrs. Mamie Cour, Mrs. E. T. Myers, Mrs. Richard Merrill and daughter Irene.

The election for member of the school board was held at the school house on Friday. A number of votes were cast and Mr. John Scott was elected to succeed himself. He was appointed to fill out Mrs. Frederick Rader's term at the time she left for Matanuska, Alaska.

The Junior Red Cross held its monthly business meeting Friday and officers for April were elected. DeWitt Cathran is the new president, Lester Burbank treasurer, and Ralph Price secretary. Miss Dorothy Brownless displayed some of the work which the girls in the sewing department are doing for the children in France. Mrs. Ralph Ericsson read several excerpts from a recent letter from her husband, particularly those where he mentioned the condition of the children in France. These letters proved of great interest to the children and made them realize something of the sufferings of those who are nearer the great war.

Mr. and Mrs. Diesler and son, of Whittier, were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brownless.

Miss Ella Drew is spending her Easter vacation with a girl friend in Pasadena.

Miss Marie Trocksell is with her parents in Los Angeles this week.

Mrs. Ralph Ericsson has to teach two days this week in Rialto but will spend the remainder of the week at the home of her parents in Garden Grove.

Mrs. T. M. Neece will be at home until Thursday, when she leaves for Los Angeles for the week-end with relatives.

Walter Piety came over from Ontario to spend the beginning of his Easter vacation with the Etiwanda young people. His headquarters this visit was the J. D. Orendorff home.

Mr. Nathan Small, who is spending the winter in Sawtelle, is a guest at the home of Mr. L. H. Tilden. Mr. Small is an acquaintance of days when Mr. Tilden lived in Illinois, and the visit over old times has been a treat to both men.

Mrs. Bandle, who has spent several weeks in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Troyer, has returned to Los Angeles.

Mr. Alfred Dugdale, who is working in San Pedro as longshoreman, had the misfortune to have his knee quite seriously injured when a derick broke recently. He considers himself fortunate, however, that he was far enough out from underneath that he escaped with his life. His family have been quite anxious on his account, but he is doing nicely.

The John Frost home on Victoria avenue is being remodeled, the roof being raised to admit two new sleeping rooms. Messrs. A. D. Allen and P. W. Burger are doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pearson, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Westphal of Cucamonga, motored to Victorville Sunday and had an excellent dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Westphal of that place. Returning home in the evening they took John Pearson to Colton, where he took the train for El Centro, at which place he will remain for some time. John came home on Friday for a few days' visit with his parents.

Will Pearson, who recently enlisted in the aviation service and is stationed at North Island, San Diego, is just at the state where he is vaccinated semi-occasionally. Aside from that he is feeling fine.

The boys who take Manual training were delighted last week by having Mrs. Ericsson give them two days. She came over one of her vacation days and gave her time to the work here.

Miss Stella Ross came home Friday from Palm Springs, where she has been for the past several months. She plans to remain in Etiwanda for some time.

Marjorie and Richard Wood left Thursday evening for Long Beach where they spent the Easter vacation with friends, returning Monday evening.

Mrs. Will H. Frost and children and Mrs. M. R. Kemp went to Riverside last Thursday and spent the day visiting Mrs. Charles Jones and family.

Miss Elsie Suhr was a guest for the Easter vacation with her grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Suhr.

Isabel Smith was a guest of Katherine McClean at dinner Easter Sunday.

Rev. Clyde W. Greenlee and son, Clyde junior, left Monday morning for Catalina where they are spending the week at the annual encampment for ministers at Avalon. This is the sixth year of the encampment and the fourth season that Rev. Greenlee has been in attendance. They are given free transportation from San Pedro on the steamer Cabrillo, and have other pleasant attentions shown them at this time.

Mrs. John Scott's Sunday school class took lunches and spent Monday in a long hike up East canyon. They had a dandy time in spite of the rain. At some later date they are to have a Weiner roast in fulfillment of the contest for attendance which recently closed a tie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Donnelly and Mrs. Herbert Price accompanied Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Greenlee to Rincon Saturday evening to attend a Christian Endeavor social.

Gerald Cour, Cyrus and Katherine McClean and Isabel Smith were guests of the Brownless sisters Saturday night, spending the evening playing cards.

Billy Hippard spent the week-end in Hollywood with his friend Carlton Rose. Mrs. Hippard went to Los Angeles Saturday evening to take Mrs. Jacobson of Big Pine to the city from which place she left for the East. Mrs. Hippard remained with friends over Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Hickcox has taken up a temporary residence in Upland, with her friend, Miss Jordan, while Mr. Hickcox is employed in Imperial valley.

The new Service Flag for Etiwanda which was hung in Cypress hall Friday, now bears twenty stars. No one now but has a personal interest in the war and is watching the news with anxious interest. Gone from here are: Ernest, Howard and Ford Perdue, Mark, George and Alvin Hickcox, Herbert and Walter Price, Earl and Herman Henderson, Edward Fisher, Will Pearson, Harry Burbank, Rolland Hippard, Robert Hart, Victor Johnson, Harold Ross,

A LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

By DR. WALTON HUBBARD, C. S. B.

Member of the Board of Lecturership of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Delivered at the Euclid Photoplay theatre, Ontario, last Sunday March thirty-first.

Christian Science was discovered and founded by Mary Baker Eddy, a woman of unusual spirituality and of a deep religious sense. She was a consistent and tireless analytical student, and through years marked by sickness and trials her deep religious sense led her to strive to see and to understand the divine Principle in every benefit which she received. This persistent search for Truth was rewarded by the discovery of the divine laws of God, which she named Christian Science.

For three years following her discovery Mrs. Eddy devoted all of her time to a deep study of the Scriptures, seeking a solution of this problem. These are her own words (Science and Health, p. 109): "I knew the Principle of all harmonious Mind-action to be of God, and that cures were produced in primitive Christian healing by holy, uplifting faith; but I must know the Science of this healing, and I won my way to absolute conclusions through divine revelation, reason, and demonstration. The revelation of Truth in the understanding came to me gradually and apparently through divine power."

Mrs. Eddy's study of the Scriptures revealed the fact that the entire Bible record teaches conclusively that a right understanding of God has always brought dominion over all material conditions, and that when the knowledge of Truth has been correctly applied it has always been attended by healing and regeneration. The Scriptures abound in evidence that to understand God brings healing. Especially is the New Testament replete with statements of the liberty that comes through "a right apprehension of Him whom to know aright is Life eternal" (Science and Health, Pref., p. vii).

Christian Science is giving us this enlarged understanding of the nature of God, which is essential if we are to appropriate in greater and greater measure the infinite blessings which infinite Love has in store for us.

In undertaking to know something of the nature of God, we are all agreed in admitting that God is omnipotent, omnipresent, and omniscient; that is, all-powerful, ever present, and all-knowing. We are all agreed in admitting His infinite perfection and presence and power; yet after making these statements the religious thought of the world quite generally contradicts them by admitting that sickness and other forms of imperfection are either sent of God or permitted by Him, as though divine Mind had any imperfection to send or could permit it without becoming responsible for it.

No matter by what term we may think of God, whether it be as infinite Life, or infinite Principle, or infinite Mind, a logical deduction as to the nature of man and the creation will always bring us to the same point,—that of the eternal perfection of all that God has made, and the unreality of sickness and all that is contrary to His divine nature.

The only way we can fail to arrive at this conclusion is by simply saying God is God,—making no effort to understand His nature,—and insisting that the sickness and sin which we see about us are in some way according to His infinite perfection and holiness.

We all of us accept the statement that God is wisdom, but it is better to say that God is Mind, because wisdom is never anything but the expression of Mind. If we admit infinite wisdom, we must admit that it is the emanation of an infinite Mind.

Let us illustrate the divine Mind by using the ordinary conception of a human mind as an example. You

Mr. and Mrs. George Frost accompanied Mr. and Mrs. George E. Utman to Pomona Easter Sunday where they spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cummings.

Herman Henderson is still in the hospital at Camp Kearny, San Diego.

Mrs. F. M. Stephens spent Thursday of last week visiting in the home of her son, Melvin Stephens, in Upland.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Smith have had as house guests D. McCorkle and daughter Cora, now of Colorado Springs, but old Oklahoma friends of the Smiths.

Patricia Gilbert had measles last week.

Dr. and Mrs. Amos Ditty of Pomona, and son James, home for Easter vacation at Davis farm school, were callers at the A. C. Smith home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hickcox, Sr., of Claremont, visited their son, Neil Hickcox, and family, Thursday.

say your friend has a fine mind. You say you know this because he has a lot of fine ideas which he expresses. You have never seen his mind, but you have known the expression of his mind in ideas. If he never moved a muscle, never spoke a word, you would rightly conclude that there was no mind there. So a mind to be a mind must be filled with ideas, and an idea by virtue of being an idea must be expressed. It is impossible to conceive of a mind filled with ideas, yet unexpressed, for a mind with no expression is not a mind but a blank.

Now we have evidence of infinite wisdom in the universe, and the evidence of infinite wisdom predicated an infinite Mind. The infinite Mind is filled with an infinite number of ideas or thoughts which constitute its wisdom. These ideas, because they are ideas, cannot be separated from the Mind which contains them, and it is the activity, the reflection, the manifestation of these ideas which constitute man and the universe. As God's ideas we exist in Him,—perfect, spiritual, and immortal,—and because we exist in Him the Scriptures declare that, "In him we live, and move, and have our being."

There is a further quality of an idea that it might be well to consider. An idea has no ability to do anything or to be anything other than just the idea of the mind in which it exists. It cannot change itself or become more or less or different than that Mind intended it should be, for it has no volition of its own, and must of necessity express exactly the qualities of the mind whose idea it is. Man is the perfect idea of God, and as an idea of God he has no volition of his own. He cannot be sick or choose to do evil, for if he could change from being God's perfect idea he would be greater than God, because he would have spoiled the infinite design, frustrated the divine purpose. Now infinite Mind is infinite Spirit and infinite Life. In expressing the perfection of infinite Mind, man expresses infinite Life and infinite Spirit, and as an expression of infinite Life man must be eternal, while as an expression of infinite Spirit man must be spiritual and not material. Man, then, as God's idea, God's image and likeness, has all the qualities of God, and not a single quality which is not of God; therefore he is healthful and holy; spiritual, immortal, perfect.

Such a conclusion as this leaves no room for a mortal, material, sick, and sinful man, yet we have the problem of materiality with its sickness and woes to deal with as a false belief to be eradicated.

Nothing seems more real to the human mind than does matter, though the most eminent physicists of the present day are quite at one in saying that it is impossible to prove there is such a thing as matter. They say that matter is a function of something outside itself, the expression of energy; and this is just another way of saying that matter is an expression of thought. Christian Science agrees with them in saying that matter is an expression of thought, but points out that matter is an expression not of right thought but of wrong thought; that all right thought, God's thought, real thought, must partake of God's nature, and is therefore spiritual, not material, and is expressed in spiritual things, not material things. The whole material universe, with all its sin, sickness, and death, is just the sense of the opposite,—the sense of the absence of that which God made.

Now this material body cannot do anything of itself, but is simply the expression of the conscious or unconscious thought of the mortal, human mind. Investigation proves that all sickness is mental, that is, it is sick thought made manifest on the body; and when we are well it is well thought which is made manifest on the body. Every function, every action, every condition of the body, is the expression of what we are consciously or unconsciously thinking from one moment to the next.

As we see that both sin and sickness are simply manifestations of mortal thought, thoughts of imperfection, we also see that by putting the thought of the perfection of God and all that God has made in place of this wrong thought, we shall rule out the wrong thought; and with no wrong thought there can be no wrong manifestation. The Bible makes this identical statement when it says, "Put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts; and be renewed in the spirit of your mind; and . . . put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness."

To those who are just beginning the study of Christian Science the nothingness of the material man is the most difficult proposition to accept. The logic of the argument of the infinite perfection of Mind, God, and the spiritual creation, seems clear to most of us, but the equally logical and correlated argument of the nothingness and unreality of the material creation causes us more trouble. This point will become clearer as our spiritual perception enlarges, for in the proportion that the spiritual creation becomes real to us, the material loses its reality.

I have often been asked the question, If this mortal, material body is not of God—if it isn't so—what am I going to do about it? what am I going to think about it?

Well, don't try to get rid of it all at once. Be content for today to get rid of the very worst things you know about it,—those things that are so obviously unlike God, so contrary to the thought of His perfection, that you can detect, no matter how small your understanding, that they are not His making, and hence have never been made. As you deny their reality and assert what you know to be God's perfection, these conditions will disappear, and though you will still have a material body to deal with, it will be a better body, made better and stronger through the application of God's law of health.

It is the putting off of the old man and the putting on of the new, through the application of the teachings of Christian Science that constitutes the healing. The thoughts of sickness and sin are ruled out of human consciousness by the understanding and declaration of the perfection of that which God has made. The Christian Scientist prays without ceasing. He is not given to praying audibly, because he is not praying to man, but to God, who hears him in secret but rewards him openly.

Mrs. Eddy says, "The habitual struggle to be always good is unceasing prayer" (Science and Health, p. 4). Our idea of goodness needs to be enlarged to include all good qualities. It should include health and success as well as holiness. If God's help is not available in everything, how are we to know how much He may be relied upon in anything? If God will not save us from a sick body or a sick business, how can we be sure that He will save us from sin? Men are proving daily that Christian Science may be successfully applied to every human activity, to every human problem.

To get an understanding of divine Love requires nothing but the belief that the infinite Principle may be understood and a desire to understand it. He who with an honest motive makes an effort to know the letter of Christian Science, will receive the Spirit, and there is no human difficulty which divine Love cannot heal.

INCREASE IN SIGN-POSTING FOR THIS PART OF COUNTRY

A general increase in sign-posting operations is assured for this part of the country by the Automobile Club of Southern California, according to a report received here from headquarters.

With the greatest influx of Eastern motorists ever promised for a single season, the importance of the new road signs, cannot be overestimated, as they will lead travel direct from the big transcontinental highways to every section of Southern California.

It is stated in the report from the club officials that the added support being given to that organization by automobile owners throughout the south makes possible not only a renovation of the sign system but also a very material increase in the number of signs and as this support increases so can the service activities of the Automobile Club.

Club trucks are now at work in San Luis Obispo, Kern, and Santa Barbara counties, and as soon as this section is completed the crews will be despatched to the other counties of the southern part of the state, notably, the Imperial valley, San Diego county, San Bernardino county, Orange county and Riverside. Ventura county has had a large number of new signs already installed. It is pointed out that in whatever county the club erects signs, the work is of benefit to all adjacent or nearby counties, as the system is so arranged as to lead from one county to another.

According to Secretary S. L. Mitchell of the organization, a strenuous campaign is to start at once against the wanton destruction of road signs by vandals who give no thought to their actions. A word of warning is likewise added by D. C. Rhodes, in charge of the sign-posting department, who states that each club truck is manned by a husky crew, some ex-prize-fighters and gun men, and it is going hard with any traveler who is caught by them in the act of "shooting up" any club signs, which are pride of Southern California motorists. That the new signs will be in place within a short time is promised, as they have already been ordered, and are under construction.

"Stars and Stripes" is the name of the weekly newspaper being published in France for American troops, under the direction of the intelligence section. Practically the entire paper is devoted to American news, including a daily radio report of about 1400 words supplied by the committee on public information to the French government.

It is the opinion of the United States food administration that the gross maximum profit for wholesalers in flour should not exceed from 50 to 75 cents per barrel. The profit to retail dealers in original mill packages should not exceed from 80 cents to $1.20 per barrel, depending upon the character of service performed. Where retailers sell in amounts less than the original mill packages, the gross profit should not exceed 1 cent a pound.

Our Boys Working With Uncle Sam

Edited by O. E. ATWOOD, of the J. J. Atwood Co.

From the copy of the "Trench and Camp," printed by the Y. M. C. A. at Camp Fremont, we notice that J. D. Mehl has been made assistant to the general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in that camp. Formerly he was an assistant in building No. 1.

Mrs. Bess Grisham has just returned from a visit to Camp Lewis. Her brother, Donald McKean, is located there with Co. C 348th Machine Gun Bn. The Upland boys that she saw while there seemed to be getting along fine.

Jake Ware (when a baby he was known as Fletcher) is now in France. His address is Battery D, 151st Field Art., A. E. F., France.

Harvey McMaster is located at Kelly Field No. 1, South San Antonio, Texas. He is in Sect. K, Line 341.

Glenn Kelly's address is U. S. S. Vicksburg, San Francisco Postmaster.

Hugh Taylor came home Wednesday on a furlough. He has been in training at Camp Lewis, and at one time about a month ago his company was all packed ready to leave for the Atlantic coast. Scarlet fever broke out and they were put in quarantine instead.

Paul Leaman expects to be able to be home on a furlough very soon. The Methor's Service Union meets Saturday at 2:30 at the Methodist church. All mothers with boys in the service are eligible for membership.

The following Upland men were called for service on March 29th, by the exemption board of district No. 1: William C. Wandfub, has been at Taft; John F. Haddow, Jr.; Arthur W. Charman, has been at Pasadena; Lucas J. Horsch, has been at Newton, Kas.

The following poems are taken from a copy of "The Bullet," published by the men of the 23rd Engineers, now in camp in Maryland. The Upland men in the 23rd are Lieut. Fred C. Froehde, Bradford Manker, Dewey Harnish, Morris E. Reynolds, and Albert Paul.

"MILITARY LETTER"

Oh, Captain! my tonsils are all swelling up
(So I want to go home on a furlough);

An' I hear that there's mangle on my favorite pup,
(So I want to go home on a furlough);

An' the folks found the tracks of a bear in the wood,
(So I want to go home on a furlough);

An' the health of old Dobbin ain't any too good,
(So I want to go home on a furlough);

An' now maw says "the hens they don't do as they should,"
(So I want to go home on a furlough);

An' my dad says he got a bad touch of the grip,
(So I want to go home on a furlough);

An' my brother got back from a round-the-world trip,
(So I want to go home on a furlough);

An' my runnin' mate Zeke is in bed for a spell,
(So I want to go home on a furlough);

An' my step-aunt's sixth cousin ain't feelin' too well,
(So I want to go home on a furlough);

An' there's dozens of troubles too grievous to tell;
(So I want to go home on a furlough);

An' Captain, a bit round the bend of the lane,
Where I want to spend most of my time of my furlough,
There's the daintiest, prettiest lass christened Jane,
An' she says that I must get a furlough.

An' though she's a shy little, sly little miss,
She says that she'll die if she don't get a kiss

From a big, awkward, farm-handed soldier like this,
So you see that I must have a furlough.

TEAM WORK

It ain't the guns, nor armament,
Nor funds that they can pay,
But the close cooperation
That makes them win the day.

It ain't the individuals,
Nor the army as a whole,
But the everlastin' team work
Ov every bloomin' soul.

AUTOMATIC INSURANCE COVERS MEN LOST ON TRANSPORT

Any American soldiers lost on the torpedoed transport were protected by United States government insurance and government compensation.

those who had not applied for insurance were covered by automatic insurance which is payable to a wife, child, or widowed mother. The automatic insurance aggregates about $4,300, netting $25 a month for 240 months. Insurance that had been applied for is payable to a much larger class of beneficiaries and can go as high as $10,000, netting $57.50 a month for 240 months.

The compensation in case of death, given by the government without charge and regardless of rank or pay, ranges from $20 to $75 a month, based on the number of dependents. Payments under the compensation feature of the military and naval insurance act in case of death are payable to a widow, children, or dependent widowed mother.

The automatic insurance ceased on February 12, but the compensation feature of the act is a separate provision. The scale of compensation in case of death follows:

(a) For a widow alone, $25.
(b) For a widow and one child, $35.

(c) For a widow and two children, $47.50, with $5 for each additional child up to two.

(d) If there be no widow, then for one child, $20

(e) For two children, $30.
(f) For three children, $40, with $5 for each additional child up to two.

(g) For a widowed mother, $20. The amount payable under this subdivision shall not be greater than a sum which when added to the total amount payable to the widow and children, does not exceed $75.

WARNING AGAINST SCHEME TO SWINDLE FARMERS

Another scheme for swindling the farmers of the United States has been discovered by the Federal Farm Loan Board. A man advertising himself as an authorized organizer of national farm-loan associations, is sending out advertising matter emblazoned with the national flag, stating that he will organize such associations at $500 each, and will teach others the trick for a certain sum of money. His advertisements have reached farmers and business men over a large part of the United States. He claims to be so busy organizing national farm-loan associations that he needs help, but will take time to teach others for a monetary consideration.

All such representations are fraudulent. In order to borrow under the farm-loan act, it is necessary for farmers to organize cooperative national farm-loan associations in their local communities. It is a violation of a ruling of the Federal Farm Loan Board, published more than a year ago, for a national farm-loan association or a joint-stock land bank to spend any money for promotion purposes. Associations thus organized will not be chartered by the Federal Farm Loan Board. Farmers are warned therefore against any one asking a fee for his proffered services in connection with applying for a loan under the federal farm-loan act.

FROM DR. J. B. CRAIG

Mr. A. Podrasnik has received the following letter from Dr. J. B. Craig and it tells of some of his experiences in the navy:

March 27, 1918.
My Dear Mr. Podrasnik:—The oranges and lemons you sent us arrived in good shape, and we are indeed very grateful to you in remembering us in that way. The citrus fruits that one gets in the stores here are the San Joaquin valley variety and to get Upland oranges is a great treat.

As you may know, we live in Vallejo, a town of the size of Ontario and Upland combined, in which there were up to two weeks ago 23 saloons (until Secretary of the Navy Daniels made it dry). The town is made up of workmen at the navy yard. The houses are old style frame buildings all painted the same color, a dirty yellow, with red roofs. The city laws are even more peculiar; drunken men can yell, fight and curse on the main street all night but they will not allow the milk delivery wagons on the streets before 7:30 a. m. on account of noise. The town has never known such prosperity as since the war broke out and they believe in the old motto, "Make hay while the sun shines," and they live up to it, too.

Mare Island, on the other hand, is said to have been the prettiest navy yard and training station in the country. Its beauties are fast fading away on account of the vast amount of building going on, such as railroads, temporary sheet iron shops, etc.

The homes of the higher ranked officers there are grand and surrounded by beautiful gardens. These like all things else on the island are owned and maintained by the government.

Of course all the war business and the military life was quite a novelty and served for a while as a kind of vacation. However, you can be sure that I'll be glad to get back home when the time comes. On the other hand, I'll soon be due for sea duty; of course that will be another novelty which I'm sure I will enjoy and may prove a little more exciting to say the least than what I'm doing here.

We are now running somewhat short of doctors here just now and are kept very busy. Due to the great number of ships being put in commission, however, the number of enlisted men has decreased materially. With all the decrease we have a large camp and many recruits every day.

Hoping this will find yourself and family well.

Very sincerely yours,
JOHN B. CRAIG.

LIBRARY NEWS

During the past month the library has been the scene of a "Food Exhibit"—a really true Hooverized food exhibit when the women of Upland showed what they could do to back Hoover in his effort to furnish food for the Allies. And the Red Cross is to be the gainer by $18 from the sale of cooked foods, through the efforts of the Woman's Council of Defense, under whose auspices the exhibit was held.

This week some additional shelves have been built in, adding materially to the shelving space.

The librarian attended the annual district meeting of the California Library association held in the library at Camp Kearny the 9th of March. Miss Thelma Sikes substituted.

The third drive for books for the soldiers and sailors was inaugurated in March and over a hundred books were turned in by friends of the lads. If you failed to get your books in, it is not too late yet, as we will continue sending as long as the boys are in camps.

In addition to the foregoing the monthly report shows a total circulation record of 1519, 672 being of the County Free Library and 847 the city. The non-fiction, otherwise history, travel, etc., shows a decided increase in circulation mainly owing to the war; 135 magazines and five pamphlets have been circulated during March; 39 new members were registered and 218 re-registered, making a total of 321 members in good standing April first. Fifty-one books were accessioned, of which 7 were bound volumes of magazines; 66 books were added to the county branch; 82 books mended.

The following books will be placed on the exhibit table on Thursday afternoon to go into circulation on Monday: Commentary on the Holy Bible, by Matthew Henry 6 vols.; World's great events, Singleton, ed.; Practical Journalism, Shuman; Personal power, Thomas; Many celebrities and a few others, Riding; Kitty Canary, Boshier; Girl from Keller's Bindloss; The U. P. Trail, Grey; Carolyn of the Corners, Endicott; Vicar of Wakefield, Goldsmith (cop. 4); Just David, Porter; Woman in the alcove, Rohlf; Forty modern fables, Ade; Drusilla with a million, Cooper; Dawn O'Hara, Ferber; Home, Chamberlain; Personal conduct of Belinda, Brainerd; Cyclopaedia of Architecture, Carpentry and building (10 vols.), American School of Correspondence.

DUCKWORTH AND JURY

jury has before it for consideration. "I doubt very much if there are 19 men who will make that statement." (There are 19 men on the grand jury). Mr. Duckworth replied: "If the district attorney is disqualified, you show it."

"If you had been elected instead of appointed the situation would be different," said Mr. Levering.

"You stoop, huh! I have lived in this county for 30 years and you are the only man—"

"You misunderstand me," said Mr. Levering. "I am just putting this on a human basis. I don't think you would violate your duty."

"You infer it," said the district attorney. "You are the mouthpiece of this grand jury! I am tired of this rawhiding. I will do what the law provides I shall do, and I will not go an inch beyond it."

"When the judge gave us our instructions he said we should employ counsel if the district attorney was disqualified," said Mr. Levering. "Then those instructions were changed."

Says He Will Know

"What do you intend to do?" asked the district attorney. "If the district attorney files a suit in this county he is going to know just what he is filing, and he is not going to take the word of anybody this grand jury might hire to do the work the law says the district attorney shall do. You don't know who the district attorney of this county is. I told you before that I am not going to appoint a deputy and I thought you understood the English language. If I owe this board of supervisors anything, I don't know it."

"I don't think for a moment anything exists between you and the supervisors," said Mr. Levering. "There is not a man in that grand jury but thinks we should have another attorney," said H. M. Barton, foreman of the grand jury.

"You are not going to do it," said Mr. Duckworth. "The law is plain." "It was done in the past," said Mr. Levering.

"It was done in an extraordinary inquiry and that shouldn't have been done," said Mr. Duckworth.

"I think it would be better for this board to take it up with the attorney general," said Mr. Riley. "And with the superior judge," said Mr. Duckworth. "I am responsible for the outcome of any action the district attorney's office begins, and I will have to be shown the facts in any contemplated action before it begins, and the grand jury is not going to employ an attorney to represent the district attorney."

Probably Hospital Matter

That the probe in question is the hospital construction matter is certain. The grand jury had the supervisors in private session most of the morning.

When the grand jury was appointed it employed Attorney Ralph E. Swing E. Swing, in accordance with instructions from Judge H. T. Dewhirst that it had such power. District Attorney Duckworth declined to appoint Mr. Swing or anybody else a deputy district attorney. Judge Dewhirst then modified his instructions. He had been in error. The grand jury then requested the attorney general, it became apparent Monday, to make the appointment. The attorney general declined, and referred the matter, in a measure at least, to the board of supervisors.

A letter from the attorney general was in the hands of the grand jury Monday. A portion of it was read to the supervisors by Foreman H. M. Barton. The grand jury committee interpreted the letter to mean the supervisors should employ the attorney. The district attorney and the supervisors did not read the letter in that manner, and the district attorney said there was no law that would provide for such an expenditure.

How far the district attorney has been with the grand jury in its probe did not develop at the controversy.

"The grand jury asked me for an opinion and I gave it, and it wasn't the kind of an opinion it wanted," he said.

"The grand jury doesn't want the district attorney's advice. It has plainly shown that. The grand jury has not treated the district attorney's office with common decency or respect."

LIQUOR CAUSE OF MOST MEN BEING IN COUNTY JAIL

"Liquor Direct"—the manner of classifying prisoners who are arrested as the result of using liquor and committing crimes while under the influence—was the cause of 24 prisoners being landed in the county jail during the month of March. Deputy Sheriff Joe Berry, who is the identification expert also, made out a report Monday showing the reasons for jailing all men received at the county jail during the month.

Of the 24 men arrested under the "liquor direct" classification, eight were for felony and 16 for misdemeanor, while eight were landed for "liquor indirect."

Of the prisoners arrested as the result of drink there were 15 Americans, 11 Mexicans, four negroes, one Italian and one Irishman.

OWNERSHIP OF DESERT TOWN SETTLED

J. W. Jeal can now be known as the "mayor" of Atolia. He owns the town. Judge J. W. Curtis untangled the tangled skein of affairs in the rich mining camp in a decision Monday in which he awarded to Jeal all the surface rights and one-half of the mineral rights of the Atolia townsite.

More than 100 people are concerned in the decision, for that many people live on the property and under arrangements made by Jeal.

The suit was between J. W. Jeal and E. S. Roberts with E. J. Abbott and James Rice. Jeal purchased Roberts' interest, Abbott gets one-half of the mineral rights.

The property will continue to be known as the Greenhorn and the title of "Lucky Rice," so called under Rice's claims, becomes ancient history.

The litigation has attracted much interest at Atolia, where the ownership of the townsite, by reason of the rights of the population, was a vital matter.

THE HAY QUESTION

The Pomona Valley Division of the Southern California Feed and Fuel Association have adopted a cash in hand basis for their wares, so that they may be enabled to co-operate with the Government. "We are wondering where the grower of agricultural products is going to get off. He needs liberal credit that he may be enabled to comply with the request of the government for hearty co-operation in growing more and better products. We have farmed for 31 years and still at it, and extend liberal credit for alfalfa now on hand, properly bloomed and cured, and sugar content such that it is the best ever for hard working teams.

Oat, barley and alfalfa hay for June and later; lay in truck loads and pay occasionally, as though you had purchased a small retail bag just as you had to have it.

There is a saving by this plan from producer to consumer and no expense for re-handling or storage, and the summer months is the time to lay in your years' supply.

CHAFFEY JUNIOR COLLEGE PLAY APRIL TWELFTH

The Chaffey Junior College play, entitled "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," will be staged at the Chaffey auditorium a week from Friday night, which is April 12. The Junior College as a class voted unanimously to give all proceeds from this play to the Red Cross, Ontario, Upland, and Chaffey organizations, will all share alike in the proceeds. The reserved seat chart is at Sikes-Manker Company.

The number of horses for agricultural work have greatly increased in England during the past year.

The Imperial County farm bureau reports as result of a canvass recently made amongst the producers of seed milk, that the valley has available in sight at least 79 tons of seed. It is reported that the valley will plant 106000 acres the coming spring.

MARY PICKFORD
"The Little Princess"

The adventures of Mary Pickford as Sara Crewe in the role of scullery maid in the boarding school, her lonely position, hunger and craving for sympathetic companionship of girls of her own age, are all reminiscent of the adventures of Oliver Twist in the famous Dickens story. Sara Crewe is a sort of feminine Oliver Twist, and when she confides to her slave companion, Becky, that she hasn't eaten well for so long she knows she must be full of "hollows," her feelings remind us of the forlorn Oliver when he passed his porridge bowl for more—and didn't get it.

Again, when Sara and Becky, sneaking downstairs where a Christmas cake is in progress of making for the more fortunate girls the slaves had to be contented with the smells, for the cake, they knew, would not be shared with them.

Sara is not destined to remain a common drudge-girl, however, for the events of the tale unfold like some of the romances of the East, which Sara Crewe has heard in her native city of Bombay. Altogether, "The Little Princess" provides Mary Pickford with one of the most intimately human roles which she has portrayed for the screen.

Thursday, Apr. 11th, Wm. S. Hart in "THE SILENT MAN" And a Clever Comedy, "IN BAD"—Prices 10c and 20c.

WM. S. HART
"The Silent Man"

In "The Silent Man" Hart will have the role of a miser who has made a rich strike, and who comes from the desert into a small border town to enter his claim. His rich ex-cite the cupidity of the proprietor of a gambling resort, and with the assistance of a dishonest government clerk the miser is robbed of his valuable property. For five reels that fairly teem with thrills, excitement and romance, Hart struggles to recover his mine, and in the end not only wins his fight against the unfair forces that are banded against him, but also captures the hand and heart of a very beautiful girl.
